

BURNS'S FULL STORY OF GREAT DYNAMITE PLOT

ated since the Los Angeles explosion, has his greatest fondness for women. Previous to that occurrence he had a girl friend in every town he visited, but since then only two flirtations have been discovered.

"One of these was with a young girl in Covington, Wis., last November, and the other with a Chicago woman whose identity has not been discovered, although he is known to have entertained her in the city several times and once was with her at the Haymarket Theatre, accompanied by McManis and Mrs. McManis."

FOUR ARE HELD AS "KIDNAPPERS" OF J. J. McMANIS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 25.—William J. Burns, of New York, counsel for the National Brotherhood of Police Officers, who arrived in this city from Toledo early today, was sought by constables with a warrant for his arrest on the charge of kidnapping McManis, but they could not find him.

Drew, Ford and Fox, when arrested last night, were released under bond of $2,000 each for Drew and Ford and $1,000 for Fox. Their bond to hold them for the Grand Jury to-day was set by the Justice at $10,000 each for Drew and Ford, and $5,000 for Fox. No bondsman was on hand at the time and it was ordered that they be taken to jail.

The general charge against the men is that they conspired to take McManis out of the State "without due process of law."

The affidavit against Drew, Ford and Fox was made by J. J. McManis, a labor union leader of Indianapolis and member of the Indiana Legislature.

James E. Bland of New York, an assistant of Drew, was arrested by three constables at his room in the Claypool Hotel at 11 o'clock this morning and taken before Justice of the Peace Manning. Bland was held in $10,000 bail and also ordered taken to the jail.

When constables started to take Drew and Ford to the jail, a large crowd gathered outside the jail, and the streets were filled with a noisy crowd. Drew being back.

"Come on, Drew," yelled a number of men, pressing from the hall into the doorway of the court-room. A constable took Drew's arm, and as he resisted, a dozen more rushed out and the man was being dragged, half pushed into the hallway. There he smiled and stepped forward briskly, and was apparently unmoved by a chorus of jeers and shouts.

"There's the District-Attorney going to jail," called one man, as Ford passed down the hallway. Drew was jostled on his way to the street, and a crowd of men, most of them apparently of the working class, followed, excited and laughing as Drew and Ford walked the two blocks to the jail. They were set out in cells and an hour later they were released with a surety company as bondsmen.

PRISONERS IN NEW MEXICO ON WAY TO COAST.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 25.—Handcuffed and looked in company with J. J. McManis, secretary-treasurer of the Structural Ironworkers' International Union, James W. McManis, or "J. B. Bryce," and Orville McManis, arrested on the charge of dynamiting the Los Angeles Times plant, passed through here at 11 o'clock today en route to Los Angeles. They were guarded by eight detectives from Chicago, Los Angeles and a private agency. No one was permitted to enter the compartments.

McManis was put on the train, according to the crew, a double Chicago, leaving reached the station there in an automobile, accompanied by the officers, a few minutes before the train was due.

He had been brought by a circuitous route across country from another railroad by which he left the East.

The detectives mingled with the crowd about the station until the train went off, taking turns at guarding the state rooms. Members of the train crew were told to tell newspaper men that the prisoners would be aboard the limited tomorrow.

James McManis and McManis looked out of the window and smiled at the crowd.

Books Have Been Written about the birds, the trees, the flowers, the clouds, the people, etc., etc., that poet or peasant could see from the window of their Apartment, Room, House or Flat.

Would it not be an interesting story—one about what YOU can see from YOUR windows? If not, bear in mind that The World printed 5,339 "To Let" advertisements last week 2,265 MORE than the Herald, and that

You can find all sorts of homelike places to live offered "To Let" through World Ads. every day in the year.

BURNS DRAMATICALLY TELLS OF TRAILING DYNAMITE PLOTTERS

Delayed Arrests for Months to Get Suspects "With the Goods On"—Will Prove "Most Atrocious Conspiracy of Modern Times."

TOLEDO, O., April 25.—Detective William J. Burns, before leaving for Indianapolis, told the story of how his work and that of his men in the dynamite cases has unearthed what they assert will prove one of the most gigantic and ruthless conspiracies of modern times.

In appearance a prosperous man of fifty, Detective Burns does not display any of the characteristics popularly supposed to belong to a Sherlock Holmes. Despite such convictions as those of Abe Ruef and the Oregon land grabbers, he contends that common sense is the main requisite in running down criminals, but his friends credit him with a sixth sense, an unerring instinct as to whether a person is telling the truth or not.

Burns entered the United States Secret Service when he was twenty, and after twenty-two years' experience Chief Wilkie said he was the best man he had. He has the reputation of having never been beaten in the long run by a criminal.

"An Atrocious Conspiracy." "The arrests of J. J. McManis, his brother, J. B. McManis, alias J. B. Bryce, and Orville McManis," said Burns today, "constitute, in my opinion, the most atrocious and far-reaching criminal conspiracy of modern times. These men are responsible for all the dynamiting outrages which have been perpetrated on structural iron, such as the North Randall, Ohio, explosion; Milwaukee West Fuel Company explosion; McClintock, Marshall Construction Company explosion at Peoria, Ill.; wreck of the Lucas Iron Works at Peoria, Ill.; wreck of the tower of the municipal building at Springfield, Mass.; wreck of the Llewellyn Iron Works at Los Angeles; the Los Angeles Times explosion; Vonspeichelson Construction Company explosion in Indianapolis, and many others."

"Immediately after the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times I was employed by Mayor Alexander of Los Angeles in an investigation to bring the perpetrators to justice. Other persons at Los Angeles, including the management of the Times, did not wish me to be employed because I had involved men of prominence in the San Francisco graft investigation. They employed other agencies. This was followed by the arrest of a man aggregating $15,000, and every detective official or private in the civilized world was engaged in an effort to find the perpetrators of the explosion. In my opinion it was not difficult to determine who was responsible for the outrages. In view of the fact that several attempts at explosion in the Middle West failed. Subsequently we learned that clock attachments were used to set off the explosions."

"When some of these clocks failed to explode in Los Angeles, it was indicated clearly that the same persons were implicated. I followed a logical conclusion that the structural iron workers were responsible, for in every case of explosion I found that they were involved in the building of the structure. By patience and perseverance we finally were enabled to bring about these arrests."

"At the time of the arrest of the three prisoners we found in their possession twelve clock attachments with fuses, batteries and fuses, and all ready to be applied. At the time of the arrest of J. J. McManis we found in his possession large quantities of dynamite and nitroglycerine, with materials for attachments, fuses, wires and fuses. In my opinion my case is complete."

"I did not hesitate to take up the investigation. There were no obstacles that could prevent me from carrying out my duty honestly and carrying out the case to a successful conclusion."

"Our representatives have been fair even with these men. The moment we played them under arrest we notified them of their rights and gave them every consideration under the law. There was no attempt to browbeat or wheedle them into confessions."

"It is now learned that J. B. McManis had for months been trying to ascertain whether I was employed in the case. He telephoned to the chief office and tried to find me."

Dynamite Was Stolen. "Previous to the arrest of McManis and McManis in Detroit we learned that two men, answering their description had visited Tiffin previous to the theft at Bloomville of 1,600 pounds of explosive, had hired a rig at Tiffin's livery stable and had driven to Bloomville."

"McManis made some very damaging admissions to me, and what he told me enabled me to get the stuff we wanted Sunday in Tiffin. We located a shed in the elder McManis's land and in it found a blind room, and in it a crude box which had a heavy padding on it. This box contained more than six sticks of dynamite. That's what we were after. And we had traveled all two thousands of miles to get it."

"But that is a mere detail. Our work has taken us from coast to coast. It took us among the foremost, swayed buildings, where, amid many dangers, we searched for the slightest clue."

"It was in this way that we found the clock-works with a mechanism unlike anything in that way ever known."

RACING RESULTS AND ENTRIES

JAMESTOWN RESULTS.

FIRST RACE—Four furlongs—A. B. Ford, 5-2 to 1, 1 to 1 and out, first; Dragoon, 7 to 2 and out, second; Orion, 1 to 1, 5 to 1 and 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:48.

SECOND RACE—One mile and three quarters—Nick O'Time, 8 to 5 and 7 to 1, first; Dr. Heald, even, place second; Gun Cotton, third. Time, 2:40.

They went to Kansas City, to Peoria, to South Chicago, to Milwaukee and a dozen other points, always carrying a mysterious suit case, which it was later learned contained the clock-works by which the infernal machines were exploded.

Visited John McManis. "Finally, the pair went to Indianapolis, where interviews were held with Justice J. McManis. This is the first time that John J. had appeared in any connection with the dynamiting. They visited him in his office at night and had a long conference. The next day, an appointment with the two in a street near his office and the three had another consultation in a saloon."

"John McManis and McManis then went again to Kansas City, and watchers who followed them found a 'plant' arranged under a new bridge, and by through a quantity of nitroglycerine found there into the waters below prevented another explosion. From this time frequent visits were made by the men to the office of John McManis in Indianapolis."

"When McManis went to Toledo he was alone, but was joined there by James McManis. They went to Detroit together, carrying heavy suit cases. It had been reported an attempt would be made to blow up the new $2,000,000 terminal in Detroit, and Chicago detectives had been asked to aid in preventing it. My son, Raymond, was working with the Chicago detectives. It was at this time that the two men were arrested and told they were wanted for safe blowing. They had gone to the Oxford Hotel and checked their luggage, but did not register."

"McManis suggested to his companion, that they go for a stroll just outside the hotel door. Bidding and Reed, Chicago sergeants, grabbed them from behind, while my son covered them with his revolver and told them they were under arrest."

"Machines" in Suit Cases. "The suit case that the men had checked at the Oxford Hotel contained enough dynamiting machinery to have destroyed Detroit. There were twelve mechanical batteries with alarm clock attachments, identical with the one found in Los Angeles which failed to explode, and machines found at Kansas City and Milwaukee. The suit case had fuses and caps attached ready for use."

"The small value was a veritable arsenal. There were two automatic pistols and a Winchester with an automatic silencer of the Maxim type attached. On the journey to Chicago McManis tried his best to flee, but any of the men were from the Burns agency."

"I have only scratched the surface in this case so far. This country will be startled when the whole story becomes public. We are sure of our ground. Everything has been thought out beforehand, and I am confident that not a false lead will be made. Of course, the dynamite which we have located may be removed, but these fellows will have to hurry."

"It may be six days before the details of the case are worked out. California law requires that prisoners extradited from other States shall have a trial within sixty days and I expect to be ready."

"Was No Confession. "The explosion in Thomas Tansett's new hotel at French Lick on March 20 was traceable directly to the iron workers' organization. A clock similar to those found in the case of J. J. McManis was used in the French Lick job."

"But what was the motive?" he was asked. "You noticed that when men were put to work on the building immediately, did you not?" he returned. "But I did not notice that the French Lick explosion personally, but received a report on it which proves that methods similar to those alleged to have been employed by the iron workers' dynamite squads were used."

"In my mind there is not the slightest doubt that McManis will be convicted. We are convinced we have conclusively proven it. The finding of the dynamite is only the small part of it, but to the public I feel that this is almost proof enough."

"Remember we also found the keys on his person which opened the places where the explosives were concealed. This is another bit of evidence that will surely cause any jury to sit up and take notice."

To Be Identified as Bryce. "When McManis reaches Los Angeles he will be identified as the J. B. Bryce who bought the dynamite in California. His identification will be absolute and positive. Further, two sticks of dynamite placed under the Times Building failed to explode. They were taken to the Giant Powder Company and were identified as pieces purchased by this man Bryce."

Burns said McManis was not wanted in connection with the Times affair, but for dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron Works. He declared he had positive proof that J. W. McManis, Caplan and Schmidt were the men responsible for the Times disaster, and that J. W. McManis was paid by his brother, arrested here.

"Caplan and Schmidt are simply anarchists and are not affiliated with the iron workers, but they helped in the explosion," said Burns. McManis worked alone on the Llewellyn job, according to Burns, but the detective declared he could prove John McManis furnished the money."

"There was absolutely no confession," he added. "And I don't know how the report got out that there was. In California we put McManis through the toughest kind of an examination, but he failed to give us anything important outside of what I have told you. We asked him questions and he refused to answer questions or to talk at all."

No Fight on Union. "A description of the man who checked a suitcase in Toledo suits that of J. W. McManis. It was left at the Union Depot and I asked it yesterday. In the suit case were found several balls of twine and a quantity of wrapping paper. The twine and the paper are of the same material as that found in connection with the Los Angeles explosion. Douglas Robinson, brother-in-law of former President Roosevelt, H. P. Eckhardt of Horace S. Ely & Co., Edgar J. Levey, Stanley W. Dexter, Edward B. Boynton, President of the American Real Estate Company, G. Richard Davis, Joseph L. Bottenweiser and Ernest Hall of the Bronx.

Will Tell What He Has Done. Mayor Gaynor then repeated:

"I have every hope that within one week from this date we will have this thing settled, and that those who have been criticizing the Mayor and those who have been working for the best interests of the city in this matter will know what the Mayor has been doing, although his part in it all has been small and he does not desire any credit for it, and what the members of the committee have been doing."

"I beg you to remember that I came into office alone in the Board of Estimate. I am glad that since that time a majority of the members of the board, honorable men, have manifested a desire to work with me. Nevertheless, our work has been grievously slow, necessarily, I have had to use infinite patience."

The Mayor did not mention President Mitchell or Comptroller Prendergast by name, but referred to "those who were going around accusing him of bad faith" and said that "if those two sterling citizens, Mr. Moore and Mr. Galvin, had been elected Mayor and had had the subway in process of building within ninety days after the first of last year."

Mayor Gaynor said that while others had been talking of a thorough route he had always had in mind a "five-borough route." Of the B. R. T. offer he said that it made Brooklyn a pivot around which the other boroughs were placed. That he took no exception to, he said, if it afforded a practical solution of the present problem, but not one cent had the Brooklyn Rapid Transit yet offered to put up.

CUT MURDERS 50 PER CENT. IS "BIG TIM'S" PROMISE.

Sullivan Tells Senate His Deadly Weapons Bill Will Make That Reduction Yearly.

ALBANY, April 25.—Senator "Big Tim" Sullivan's dangerous weapon bill, featuring any person who dedicates to himself a revolver to be licensed, was advanced to the order of final passage in the Senate today. The measure was attacked by Senators Ferris and Hayne who wanted the person who keeps a revolver in his home for the protection of his family to be exempt from the provisions of the law. The Senate was in sympathy with Senator Sullivan when he had finished his defense of the bill.

"I am willing to accept any square amendment to this bill," "Big Tim" said, "but I do not want any offered in the interest of the manufacturer who places the money they get from the sale of dangerous weapons above the value of human life. This bill is simply intended to cut down murder and suicide statistics in this State. If you will give me this bill I will cut down the number of murders in New York in one year by at least 50 per cent. No man knows more about the situation with which this deals than I do, and you must take my word for it that I know what I am doing."

"The key which we opened the suit case was one of a bunch which we took from J. J. McManis when he was arrested in Indianapolis. The suit case was greased stained, which was caused by dynamite being carried in it."

ROCKEFELLER BACKS B. R. T. AGAINST THE INTERBOROUGH

(Continued from First Page)

The Williamsburg and Brooklyn bridges into said subway would not be justified if at the end of ten years the use of the bridges and the terminal connections in Manhattan was to be taken away.

Want $83,000,000 From City. As to the estimated cost of the proposed system the B. R. T. says: "We are advised by the city Comptroller that the available city capital for subway construction on July 1 next will be in the neighborhood of $10,000,000. Our estimate of the amount of money required by the city to construct the additional subway included under the so-called 'original line' would be $83,000,000."

This is on the assumption that the size of section of subway in the adoption of the proposed line in the adoption of the resolution were Messrs. Alcorn, Bauman, Brooks, Pille, Goodman, Haines, Higgins, Hoff, Korn, Lanahan, Lent, Murray, Schick, Sullivan, Sweet, Thorn, Ward, Warren, W. A. Waters, Youmans and MacGregor.

"Our own expenditures, if the equipment and operation of the additional East Side line from Chambers street to Ninth street northwardly into the Bronx is included, will approximate $75,000,000."

In conclusion, the B. R. T. assures the city officials that the proposition is far and away the best that has been submitted.

Gaynor Sees Settlement. "I think I can say absolutely that the subway situation will be settled within a week," declared Mayor Gaynor, emphatically to a large delegation of real estate men in the reception room at the City Hall today. The Mayor accompanied his declaration with a blow of his right fist upon the table at which he stood while talking.

"Furthermore," added the Mayor, "we are to have a conference to-morrow at which matters will be cleared considerably. In addition, I can tell you that when the new offer of the Interborough comes out of committee it will have been changed so much for the better that it will practically be unrecognizable."

The delegation represented the Allied Real Estate interests of Greater New York and comprised among others Allan Robinson, President of the organization.

Save Your Old Plumes. Bring them to us. We'll transform them into beautiful WILLOW PLUMES. We'll also clean and dye them. THE COST OF NEW ONES.

Coughs, Colds and Sore Throats Relieved and Cured by Hale's Honey. It Soothes and Heals. Contains no opium nor anything injurious to health. All druggists. Pike's Toothache Drops Stop Pain.

ROBIN'S FREEDOM ASKED AS REWARD FOR HIS SERVICES

Bank Wrecker's Lawyer Pleads with District-Attorney for Suspended Sentence.

District-Attorney Whitman and Samuel Goldsmith, counsel for Joseph G. Robin, held a consultation today over the arraignment on Friday of Robin for sentence. The bank wrecker will be arraigned in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court before Justice Seabury, in whose court he pleaded guilty to an indictment for grand larceny in the first degree.

Counsel for Robin sought to impress upon the District-Attorney that as a reward for his "great" services to the State in pointing out the lax methods in vogue in the State Banking Department and in exposing the inner workings of the coteries that wrecked the Carnegie Trust Company, he should be set free under a suspended sentence.

Another of the lawyer's contentions is that Robin should be permitted his freedom in order that he may turn his hand to rehabilitating the properties he has sold up to recommend the reason for his plea. Without Robin's aid, Mr. Goldsmith declares, these properties will run to seed and the investors who put their money into them will suffer a total loss. Let Robin out and he will put them on their feet again.

At the conclusion of his conference with Mr. Goldsmith, the District-Attorney did not say whether he had made his plea to recommend the reason for Robin's plea. Mr. Whitman, however, said that Robin and his sister have cut off the allowance they had been making to the old people.

"We are pretty close to the end of our resources," said the elder Robinovitch. "We have tried to see our son and daughter, but they refuse to see us. We want the District-Attorney to make them provide for our support."

Mr. Whitman promised to see what he could do.

ARE YOU FREE FROM—

Headaches, Colds, Indigestion, Pains, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Dizziness? If you are not, the most effective, prompt and pleasant method of getting rid of them is to take, now and then, a desertspoonful of the ever refreshing and truly beneficial laxative remedy—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna. It is well known throughout the world as the best of family laxative remedies, because it acts so gently and strengthens naturally without irritating the system in any way.

To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., bearing the name of the Company, plainly printed on the front of every package.

HOGAN

Gold Glasses, $1. Other oculists ask you to pay from $5 to $15 for the same grade of eyeglasses or spectacles.

The same careful and accommodating assistants who were with me at Ehrlich Bros. are with me now.

FREE EYE EXAMINATION. DR. HOGAN. 15 West 23d St.

ESTABLISHED 30 YEARS. As there is doubt in your mind that we are doing the finest upholstery work and also the best of all kinds of repairs, come again. Special offer one week only.

5-PIECE PARLOR SUITES. Repaired in 24 hours. $1.00. SLIP COVERS. $1.00.

West 14th St. Reupholstering Co. 103 W. 14th St. Phone 2265 6th Ave.

Save Your Old Plumes. Bring them to us. We'll transform them into beautiful WILLOW PLUMES. We'll also clean and dye them. THE COST OF NEW ONES.

FEATHER REPAIRING. MARSHALL STILES. Repaired or made into the case. 260 W. 125th St. A. N. Y.

All lost or found articles advertised in The World. Information Bureau, 34th Street, between 5th and 6th Aves. New York City. Phone 2265 6th Ave.

PAINFUL TROUBLE WITH FINGER NAILS

Sometimes Three Fingers Without Nails at One Time. Began 25 Years Ago. No Permanent Cure. Began to Use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In a Short Time Nails Were Well. No Further Trouble.

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"Perhaps ten years later, I began again to suffer from the same trouble. Again I tried various remedies, among them a prescription from a doctor of my friend's father, who had suffered from a like trouble. This seemed to help somewhat for a time, but it was not long before the trouble began again. I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would go down until the next period of inflammation, possibly not more than a week or two after. These frequent inflammations resulted in the loss of the nail."

"I have suffered from the same trouble [painful finger nails at different periods of my life. The first time of its occurrence, perhaps twenty-five years ago, after trying home remedies without getting helped, I asked my doctor to prescribe for me, but it was not for a year or more that my nails and fingers were well. The inflammation and suppuration began at the base of my finger nail. Sometimes it was so painful that I had to use a positive to induce suppuration. After the pus was discharged the swelling would